

TEXT of NAVAL ARMAMENT LIMITATION TREATY

THREE CHAPTERS AND A PREAMBLE MAKE UP TREATY

GREAT BRITAIN 22, AND JAPAN 15, AS WELL AS ABANDONING BUILDING PROGRAM

By CARL D. GROAT, (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 19.—Reference to the 5-5-3-175-175 capital ship ratio has been omitted in the final draft of the naval treaty, the United Press learned today.

Omission of the actual ratio was due to Japan's sensitiveness, they holding this would tend to give an air of inferiority to their nation. The ratio, however, is indirectly provided for by specific figures on the total tonnage.

The treaty, according to its preamble, is based upon "maintenance of general peace" and for reduction of armament competition.

The preamble says: "The United States of America, the British Empire, France, Italy and Japan desiring to contribute to the maintenance of the general peace, and to reduce the burden of competition in armaments:

Have resolved, with a view to accomplishing these purposes to conclude a treaty to limit their respective naval armaments and to that end have appointed their plenipotentiaries who have communicated to each their respective powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

The treaty proper is divided into three chapters. The first contains twenty articles. The second is divided into four parts—capital ships, to be retained, rules for scrapping, replacement and defenses.

The third chapter contains miscellaneous provisions containing articles relative to common action in case of a decided molestation of the treaty, and in case of a power becoming involved in war.

How the great naval powers will scrap the proudest of their fighting ships has been charted with exact details in an annex to the treaty.

Definite provisions have also been made for replacements. The charter obtained by the United Press shows America must scrap thirty-one vessels when the treaty is effective; Great Britain twenty-two, as well as abandoning her building program; Japan eighteen as well as abandoning her prospective building program.

After the first big batch of ships is scrapped this year, America scraps no more until 1934, but the British must scrap four more in 1925, and begin anew on scrapping in 1934, while Japan after her first scrapping does none until 1934.

W. A. Steffes, president of the Northwestern Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association will protest vigorously against the move, he said. Steffes charged that the selection of Hays is "a clever attempt to foist political propaganda upon the screen."

He said he "scented a political plot to convert the screens of the country into billboards for Republican propaganda with ruinous effect on the industry."

GUMMER NOW ON TRIAL FOR MISS WICK'S MURDER

(By United Press.) Valley City, N. D., Jan. 19.—Before a jury composed entirely of farmers witnesses today began testifying in the trial of William Gummer for the alleged murder of Marie Wick.

Hans Wick, father of the murdered girl told of her work and habits. The last time he saw her alive he said was when he put her on the train at their home at Grygler, Minn. She was going to Warren, he said. He broke down and was excused from further testifying.

Other witnesses who saw her on the train and in Fargo testified. Mrs. Elmer Hilliard, of Lengby, Minn., told she advised the girl to stop at the Prescott hotel in Fargo. COLLECT INTEREST ON FOREIGN DEBT URGES SEN. BORAH

SAYS EUROPEAN NATIONS COULD PAY IF THEY CUT DOWN MILITARY EXPENSES

(By United Press) Washington, Jan. 19.—Failure to collect interest on the eleven billion dollar allied debt to the United States means the American people must continue to pay for European refusal to economize and go to work and cut down huge military establishments, Senator Borah declared today in demanding that the foreign debt refunding bill provide for collection of interest at stated intervals, beginning at once.

"It seems to me," said Borah, "that the bill ought to provide for the semi-annual or at most annual payments of interest, but there are those who want to postpone the payment even of interest for a number of years."

"This would, in my opinion, be an injustice to the American tax payers, and would have a tendency to lead European nations to delay putting themselves in condition to pay. I have no doubt that most of the governments owing us can make the interest charges annually. They certainly can if they will cut down their standing armies and their vast equipment. It is hardly just to ask American people, be deferring interest, to maintain the huge establishment of Europe as well as our own. That is what we are doing unless we insist on collection of the interest regularly."

"Take Germany as an illustration. Germany is called on to pay vast sums. We are told Germany is perfectly able to pay, and will be forced to pay. In addition, Germany is compelled to maintain at her expense the allied armies on the Rhine. If Germany can pay, and also maintain the allied armies, it would seem that a little economy in the countries owing us would at least enable them to pay us the interest."

RESOLUTION ADOPTED AGAINST UNFAIR DISCRIMINATION OF CHINESE RAILROADS

AND EVENTUALLY GIVING CHINA CONTROL OVER THESE LINES

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 19.—Two important steps toward giving China a "square deal" were taken today when the far eastern conference adopted the Hughes and Geddes resolutions declaring against unfair discrimination of Chinese railroads and for eventual Chinese control of these lines.

Still another important move was an agreement to a list on existing commitments and concessions held by foreign powers in China, many of which are secret.

Tomorrow a resolution definitely covering such listing will be adopted. The effect of this is to bring to light concessions hitherto unknown except to the foreign powers involved.

The Chinese expressed themselves as well satisfied with this.

(By United Press)

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 19.—Marines and postal inspectors today trailed the robber who stole two registered mail pouches containing $500,000 in bonds, and then shoved $100,000 worth of the loot into the postoffice window. Dan Ingram, colored porter, who had charge of the mail truck when the pouches were stolen, has vindicated himself, police said, and will be released soon.

The thief, it was believed, was an expert. He picked out the one hundred thousand dollars worth of non-negotiable notes which were returned to the postoffice with a note saying "here's your bonds" and signed "Tommy O'Connor."

Investigators do not believe O'Connor, who escaped from a Chicago jail when he was about to be hanged, had anything to do with the robbery. It is believed the bandits used the gun man's name to cover up their identity.

GOOD ROADS ARE CURE FOR ALL ILLS SAYS SEN. MCGARRY

IMPROVE MORAL CONDITIONS, PROMOTE HEALTH, WORK FOR JOBLESS AND FOOD FOR HUNGRY

(By United Press.)

Fargo, Jan. 19.—"Good roads—improve moral conditions, promote health, extend educational opportunities, furnish homes for the poor, work for the unemployed, food for the hungry, and do more to promote community interest than any movement ever undertaken by the moralists of the age."

Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker, Minnesota, president of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota Association, presented these arguments before the Tri-State Grain Growers' Association today.

"Bad roads cause enormous waste of time and money," he said. "Because of them, $414,000,000 is lost annually on crops, according to government estimates. One-sixth of a year they are impassable."

"In 1919 Minnesota farmers in some cases claimed they lost 65c a bushel on wheat because of inability to get the wheat to market at the right time."

For the last two years Minnesota has been spending $25,000,000 a year for roads and bridges, he said.

What Babylon Handed Us.

The new system of dividing the day into 24 hours, invented by the Babylonians, was adopted by the Greeks and since then it has been handed down from generation to generation without any alteration, because nobody has dared to change it. Even the French revolutionists, who introduced a large and elaborate series of innovations in the system of weights and measures, and went so far as to change the names and order of the days of the week, did not attempt to alter the day's division into 24 hours.

New Organ of Balance.

Dr. G. Vitali, the Italian naturalist, has discovered that birds and bats have a small sense organ or vesicle situated on the middle wall of the tympanic (drum) cavity of their ears. When this is removed they seem to have no sense of balance. Vitali concludes that this organ, which reacts to variations of pressure within the middle-ear, thus enables the bird to determine the density of the air through which it is moving, and regulates its muscular movements accordingly.

IN KIDDIES' WEAR

Juvenile Styles Are Exact Replicas of Types for Grownups—Doll Clothes to Match.

In the wide use of velvet for children's afternoon frocks, is again emphasized the fact that juvenile styles are exact replicas of the types for grownups. The velvet offered this season is so soft in texture that it falls in readily with slight bits of extra stiffening to the bouffant types hitherto associated with taffeta. A cherry-colored dance dress with a simple neck line shows velvet roses of the same material as its only trimming.

Novel accessory notes were introduced in the costume of a young schoolgirl, seen recently. A little tam of velours was drawn into a band of Scotch plaid. A silk medallion showing a thistle was placed at the side, through which was thrust a smart little feather at a jaunty angle. The youngster carried a waterproof schoolbag of matching Scotch plaid.

The oriental influence that has found its way into the designs for the grownups does not belong entirely to them. Among the new baby saques is a model in corduroy, to be had in pink, blue or white with shell stitch edge finished to accentuate the pagoda-shaped sides under the little butterfly sleeves.

Children's coats for sports and school wear are fashioned from oxford cloth, chinchilla and beaver which give warmth without much weight. Heavy fabrics with rough finishes or with colorful effects in dark-toned overplaids are well liked. Dressy effects in coats feature broadcloth and velours, while the increasing popularity of velvet for children as well as grownups is emphasized in party coat models. Some are fur trimmed, others plain and for the "littiest" girl, there is a cunning coat in black velvet with a little cape swung across the back.

Nothing will do but that dolly must have a coat made to match that worn by the child. This is easy when the coat is made at home, but smart shops, too, are showing hydrangea coats with mole collars for the six-year-old, and tiny models made in just the same style even to the fur collar, for the dolly! Wide shawl collars are to be found on all of the coats for infants. Lace and hand embroidery were used on coats of pink and white crepe de chine and one had a border of Irish lace around the deep collar. On another coat was noted a finely-plaited ruffle with trimmings of embroidery and a dress was shown to match this coat.

The kiddie suit of fur has made its appearance. It is a one-piece suit designed on the order of pajamas and made up in such furs as badger, raccoon, pony, marmot, lamb and other hardy pets.

HOMESPUN IN DARK COLORS

This is the correct and modish fabric for an all-around sport suit. Dark tones prove unusual and practical in the material selected for this box coat and straight-lined skirt.

Tams Are Quilt-Trimmed.

The crocheted tam may be a very lovely thing if made of angora wool. One smart model of a soft gray angora was trimmed with a stiff black quill drawn through the meshes of the cap at one side. The soft hat of velvet or wool fabric is a rival of the long popular tam with the school girl this year. One of these practical bits of headgear has a four-piece jockey crown and a soft brim that may be worn turned down or up with equally good effect. Such a hat is smart made either of velveteen or wool jersey cloth or of a rough tweed.

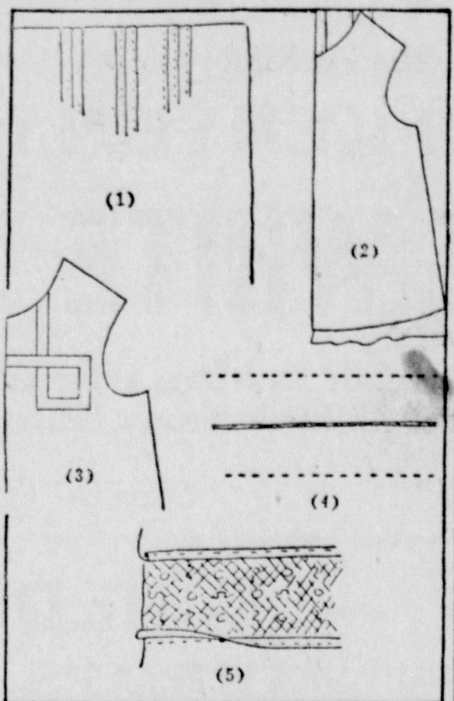

Girdles Are Gorgeous.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the new winter costumes is the belt. The belts are very gorgeous and made in jeweled effects on fabric, or are in heavy beads, in crystal and jet, or in filigree metal.

HOW TO ADD THE PIN TUCKS

Directions Will Aid Home Dressmaker in Construction of New or Remodeling of Old Garments.

How often do you want to add a few pin tucks or change the style of collar, when you are making a dress? Copy the pattern that you are using as a foundation pattern in strong wrapping paper. If you want to add pin tucks to the front of a dress, cut off a length of goods, an inch or so longer than the front of your pattern. Tuck it, as shown in Fig. 1. Fold the goods through the center and lay on the pattern, as shown in Fig.

2, bringing the fullness of the tucks straight down in the front. Pin the pattern to the goods and cut out the front.

If you want to add a wide tuck to the front, mark on the pattern where you want the tuck to come, marking all the way from the top to the bottom of the pattern. Take another piece of paper and lay in a tuck just this width. Place the pattern on it, bringing the marks on the pattern directly over the tuck in the paper and mark around the outside of the pattern. It will give you a pattern with the tuck allowed.

It's an easy matter to add insertion in any fancy design. If you mark the design on the pattern first. Mark exactly where the insertion will go on the pattern. See Fig. 3. Mark two lines the width of the insertion apart. You can put it on in squares, ovals, circles, bow-knots. After you have your design carefully marked on the pattern, lay the pattern on the goods and trace over the marks with a tracing wheel.

Lay the insertion on the right side of the goods along the marks and baste it in place. From the right side of the goods, stitch either side of the insertion. Then, on the wrong side of the goods, split the goods centerway of the lace. See Fig. 4. Cut off the raw edges, leaving only enough to turn a narrow hem on either side. Roll the raw edges and hand fell them in place or machine stitch them a second time. See Fig. 5.

STYLE NOTES

Dyed lace is used for evening frocks. It is dyed green, red, blue or any other color that is desired, and it is made up over tulle or crepe.

Some of the frocks made of heavy cloth are belted with narrow cloth girdles, which are tied and hang in long-tasseled ends below the hem of the skirt.

Fur hems are a part of some of the new suits. If there is a hem of fur there is, of course, a collar of fur to the jacket, and usually there are deep cuffs of fur.

Hatpins have a decidedly decorative place on many of the new hats. They are made of jet, pearl, jade and other colored stones.

A black evening frock has a novel train consisting of a panel attached at the shoulders, split into two parts, each ending in a long point finished with a jet tassel on the floor, and caught in at the waist with a jet girdle.

A smart gown recently shown was made of ivory canton crepe cut on chemise lines, and trimmed with wide bands of silver cloth, which hung lower than the canton crepe skirt. The girdle was a rope of ruby beads, knotted at one side and falling in long tassels.

Millinery Styles.

In the millinery lineup all black hats are sharing honors about equally with bright colored bits of headgear, and there is no rule at all to govern size. Small, medium and large hats are shown, the question of "which shall it be" being decided by individual becomingness. The Spanish note continues strong, and much uncurled plumage is seen in the trimmings. Regular fringes of burnt ostrich extend all around many hats, half veiling the eyes of the wearer.

Tams Match Scarfs.

Latest Models in Evening and Dinner Frocks

PALE GRAY SUITS

Striking Garments Collared and Cuffed With Seal.

High-Neck Finishes, Large Sleeves and Low Waistlines Are Outstanding Features.

Very attractive are the suits of palest gray velours de laine, the coats deeply collared and cuffed with seal and lined with black satin. The contrast is almost as startling as black and white, yet the grayish tone makes them possible for winter wear.

The dress coat and the coat dress are still important, and the resemblance between them is so great that Black Broadcloth Coat With Bright Green Broadcloth Cuffs and Braid Trimming.

It is difficult to distinguish one from the other. There are models designed for coat purposes which look like dresses; again there are models, distinctly dresses, that have a most coat-like appearance. Both types agree on high-neck finishes and large sleeves. Practically all have long sleeves and low waistlines. If they are of the chemise type they must blouse over a low-placed girdle of some sort. The day of permitting this type of garment to hang in a perfectly unbroken line has passed.

A new idea appears in the coat dress, or robe manteau, as the French call it, developed in velvet or heavy woolen material and shown with a short circular cape and muff of fur. The muff is crescent shape.

Finished the Job.

"Strange she should leave her husband after he had given up all his bad habits and settled down." "Well, she married him to reform him, and I suppose when she had completed the contract there was nothing else to do."—Boston Transcript.

Break colds with vapors

The favored treatment now is a salve rubbed on, that gives off penetrating, healing fumes.

Try the vaporizing treatment for colds—Vicks VapoRub. At the first sign of a cold, apply Vicks over throat and chest. Rub well in. Lay on a flannel cloth. Apply again at night and arrange the bedclothes like a funnel, so that the vapors, released by the body heat, will be freely inhaled. This is the treatment favored today by doctors and nurses for colds, bronchitis, tonsillitis, spasmodic croup, sore throat and, in modified form, for catarrh and asthma. Vicks contains the old, time-tested remedies—Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, etc.—combined by special process, so that while they penetrate and stimulate the skin, the ingredients are also released as vapors by the body heat and are breathed right into the lungs.

WOMEN PLAN CAMPAIGN

The women voters of the country, through their various organizations, propose to make a determined effort to change the complexion of Congress by electing men who can be depended upon to serve their country in general and their constituents in particular from the point of view of human welfare. It is understood that a large group of influential women are planning a formidable campaign to "elect in 1922 a human welfare Congress." The National Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers' Associations, through its legislative department calls on all the large organizations of the country to join in a drive to send to Washington only Congressmen interested and educated in prominent welfare issues.

The idea back of the movement is based upon the theory that it should be the part of the new women voters to make welfare legislation as prominent in an election as business issues. The last election, at which women voted for the first time, came upon them so suddenly that they were not prepared to take an active part in the campaign. Now, however, they will make an earnest effort to have their votes count for something in supporting candidates pledged to aid in human welfare work.

LITTLE FALLS WANTS SENATOR

Crow Wing County has for many years had the senator from this district, but there are strong indications that Morrison county will have a candidate in the field this year. The Little Falls Transcript in a long editorial recently said: "The political pot is beginning to bubble a little, and every few days some one puts this query: 'Who will be the candidate for state senator from this district at the next election?' Evidently the matter is firmly fixed in the minds of most people locally that the next representative of the Crow Wing-Morrison district should come from Morrison county."

The Transcript thereupon boosts C. Rosenmeier, former county attorney and now active head of the American National Bank of Little Falls, as a man who "would very ably represent the district" and "Crow Wing and Morrison would have representation that would count for the district."

The Royalton Banner publishes the editorial in full and heartily indorses Mr. Rosenmeier's candidacy. So if Crow Wing county hopes to retain the senatorship our local politicians should get busy.

REGIONAL CONFERENCES PROPOSED

Railway executives and heads of the four railroad brotherhoods met in Washington on Monday and reached a tentative agreement, at the suggestion of Secretary Hoover, to submit wage and working questions affecting train service employees to regional conferences for adjustment, if possible, without contests before the Railroad Labor Board.

The railroad executives will meet on Saturday in Chicago to consider the proposals, while the brotherhood chiefs will report back to their organizations and if the agreement is ratified, as all concerned expect it will be, the regional gatherings will be summoned about Feb. 10.

It is hoped that these conferences may be the means of adjusting the differences between the railroads and the train employees, and a strike may be averted.

ASSESSING IMPORT DUTIES

The Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee have reached a tentative agreement to assess import duties under the new permanent tariff law on the basis of the selling price in the American wholesale market of the imported articles at the time of its shipment to the United States. This plan of assessing duties is that originally proposed by the experts to the House Ways and Means committee. The details of the plan remain to be worked out by the committee and the Treasury, Tariff Commission and other experts assigned for the consideration of this problem. A definite agreement will probably be reached within a day or two.

Strikes and lockouts cost $5,000,000,000 in 1921, it is estimated by the Department of Labor. Of course the workers and employers shared the largest proportion of the loss, although the cost to the general public has undoubtedly been very great. The public loss is due to high prices resulting from curtailed production following shut-downs of mills and factories because of labor wars.

The annual statistical number of the Railway Age finds that freight traffic in the United States in 1921 was about 22 per cent less than it was in 1920, and that passenger traffic declined in 1921 19 per cent. Gross railway operating revenues underwent in 1921 a shrinkage of $600,000,000 from 1920.

The postal revenues—universally accepted as a barometer of business—showed a healthy increase month by month during the last half of the past year. The total receipts from the mail service were about $20,000,000 in excess of last year.

After seeing some of the popular movie comedians try to comedize, in the opinion of a disgusted exchange, "the substitution of a dummy in a throw-over-the-cliff scene is usually a horrible mistake."

THAT WATCH COMPANY

The watch company that went "bump" found it couldn't go any farther on tick—Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

To Attempt World Flight.

London regards with admiration Sir Keith Smith and his brother, Sir Ross Smith, who, two years ago, flew from London to Australia, covering the 11,294 miles in just under 28 days, and who now announce that they have begun preparations for a flight around the world.

The distinguished brother aviators are not after the long non-stop flight record. "They feel that aviation will develop itself on routes upon which stops are possible. What they wish to prove is that there are practicable means by which every section of the civilized earth can be reached by ship and train, and that this can be done at an immense saving of time and perhaps of actual cost of transportation. Fortunately for themselves and the cause they advocate so energetically the distinguished Smith brothers have plenty of money with which to demonstrate their theories."

Taking It Easier.

"The Japan of Lafcadio Hearn and Loti is no more," said Hamilton Hartley, the author-traveler, at a Washington dinner party. "Labor troubles you know."

"You have heard of the Japanese rickshaw runners? These men trot between the shafts of a rickshaw at the rate of five and six miles an hour. I mean to say they used to trot at that rate. Since they've been unionized it's hard to get them out of a walk."

"Once, having forgotten my valise, I offered a Tokyo rickshaw man a double fare if he'd hurry back to my hotel for it. Well, as he galloped down the road his fellow workers stared after him in amazement, and one of them yelled:

"Hey, what are you running for? Aren't you working today?"

Trade Schools for Women.

Argentina's recently organized Social Federation of Women (Confederacion Social Femenina) has for one of its chief objects the establishment of trade schools for women and girls in order to teach the elements of the manual trades, thus making more women economically independent and enlarging the sphere of their activities. Thus far it has organized two such schools, one of which has an attendance of 40 girls, who are learning to make men's and women's clothing, baskets and the like.

Head Stuffed By
Catarrh or Cold?
Use Healing Cream

If your nostrils are clogged, your throat distressed, or your head is stuffed by nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic, germ destroying cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing inflamed, swollen membranes and you get instant relief.

How good it feels! Your nostrils are open. Your head is clear. No more hawking, snuffling, dryness or struggling for breath. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from any druggist. Don't stay stuffed up. Relief is sure.

STILL HOLD ANCIENT COURT

Judicial Tribunal Established Seven Hundred Years Ago in England Never Abolished.

Among the courts of ancient origin in Great Britain a most interesting one still exists at Bristol, the last one remaining of the Pied Poudre courts which were established more than 700 years ago at places where large fairs were held, lasting very often for more than a fortnight, and attended by foreigners. The courts were provided, especially if the fair was at a seaport town, to deal with differences of opinion which were likely to arise between people who could not understand each other's speech. The stranger, in such a case, would find himself in a sorry plight.

Courts were therefore established so that complaints from those who were staying in the city for the fair or passing through without making any long stay, could be dealt with, and were called Courts of Pied Poudre or Dusty Feet from the dusty feet of the traveling bagmen and peddlers whom it was intended to help.

In time Pied Poudre became Pye Powder court, and under that name was held once again in Bristol this autumn for a fortnight. The Recorder presided. The court was opened in accordance with ancient custom in the market place which adjoins the Guildhall for convenience. Although the number of complaints were few the court remained sitting for the full 14 days as it had done century after century. Thither the dusty feet can turn of those who feel they have a grievance, sure that attention will be given to their plaint.

WILD GAME IS INCREASING

Measures That Have Been Instituted for Their Protection Have Had Excellent Results.

Under the protecting care of the bureau of biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture, big game on government reservations has multiplied fast. The animal census shows 508 buffalo on such reservations now, as compared with 207 five years ago; 504 elk, as compared with 159; 92 antelope, as compared with 40, and so on.

Care of the birds progressed materially during the year through posting and defining boundaries of many of the bird refuges, the planting of grain to provide food and cover, establishment of new reservations, provision of additional warden service at certain reservations, and increased number of patrol boats.

Its administration of the migratory bird treaty act, which prohibits the shooting of migratory birds on their flight north in the spring, and contains restrictions as to the manner in which they may be hunted during the open seasons, and of the Lacey act, which regulates interstate shipments of wild animals and game, resulted in the apprehension of nearly 1,000 alleged violators of the federal game laws and the securing of more than 500 convictions in which fines were assessed ranging from $1 to $500 each.

No Hero to His Housekeeper.

What will Josephine say to the award of the Nobel prize for literature to M. Anatole France? Josephine during many years was housekeeper to the great novelist and kept his home in such a perfection of comfort—serving, indeed, as the model for the ideal Therese of "Le Crime de Sylvestre Bonnard"—that there was much grief in two hearts when infirmity made it necessary some few years ago for her to be superannuated. But though she cared so diligently for his bodily needs the old woman would never admit any very high opinion of her master's intellect. "Is the master in?" once inquired a very distinguished visitor. "The master," grunted Josephine contemptuously, "why do you call him the master? He is master of nothing but his food, and even that he can only master when he has it in his mouth."—Manchester Guardian.

Stanch Ocean Veteran.

Ask any veteran inhabitant of Dockside, in London, if he remembers the Cutty Sark, and it is likely that his eye will glisten as he answers, "Yes." Tell him she may be seen in the Surrey commercial docks, and he will be hard of belief. Yet so it is. The Cutty Sark was once a famous tea clipper which, on one famous occasion did 182 knots in 12 hours. Steam power drove her off the China route, and now she sails the sea under the name of Ferreira, flying the Portuguese flag. For years her wooden walls have withstood the buffeting of the ocean, and it would appear as though she might outlast many an iron vessel driven by steam.—Scientific American.

Art.

The pick of recent Japanese paintings are exhibited in New York. Observe the subjects: "A Prairie Fire," "Scenes in the Buddhist Hell," "Weasel," "A Shinto Shrine" and "Yellow Bird on a Blossoming Tree."

These subjects reveal that Japanese imagination has a tremendous scope. Hence Japs are quick to sense the possibilities of a thing, as shown by their aggressive diplomacy.

But imagination is not all. Japan, within a few generations, will be eclipsed by the plodding Chinese giant, who imagines nothing except facts. That's what made our west—keeping its feet on the ground.

What Interests Londoners.

From an ancient arch of Old London bridge, built at the end of the Twelfth century, is to spring a new modern building which will tower far above all the London skyline and probably will be the highest building in London, not excepting the monument. Londoners, however, quite characteristically appear to take far more interest in the question of whether that relic of the ever famous and once so popular London bridge, the only recently discovered arch, can be saved, than in the height of the prospective skyscraper.

She Waited in Vain.

"I suppose it was a proud moment in Mrs. Gadder's life when she cast her first vote?"
"It was, indeed," said Mr. Gadder, "but something of a disappointment, too."
"Was her candidate defeated?"
"No, he was elected, but it was several weeks before Mrs. Gadder discovered that it isn't customary for a successful candidate to send a note of thanks for each vote received."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Running Start.

Maurine and Billy are rivals in their school work. But Billy had received much the higher grade on an examination paper. As he turned triumphantly toward the young lady after the results were announced, she gave him what is commonly referred to as "a nasty look."

"Hub," the little red-haired rascal boasted, "I can make an uglier face than you."

"Well, you ought to," she snapped, "look what you've got to start with."

HOUSE AND SOCIAL EATS CHOP SUEY

Committee of Chamber of Commerce Did Much to Make Chamber Affairs Successful Functions

GATHERED AT ED. HEWITT'S

Smoo folks like one thing, others another but Al. Ebert surely loves chop suey. Singing swan songs may be Ebert's forte but that music pales into insignificance when compared with his handling of this dainty Chinese dish. Without chop sticks the melody is supreme, what it would be with them only a vivid imagination could portray.

The members of the retiring House and Social committee of the Chamber of Commerce gathered at Ed. Hewitt's Tuesday shortly before midnight after a meeting to close up the books of the committee for the year. After disposing of the luncheon, stories were told, good, bad and otherwise, most of them hoary with age and the guests S. R. Adair, Carl Wright and Secretary Bouma laughed as though they were hearing for the first time these old chestnuts. Doc Cohen and Geo. Lowe both claimed the discovery of a new bait for winter fishing, canned peas. Much depends upon the formula according to Mr. Lowe.

BRAINERD HIGH VS ST. CLOUD TECH.

(Contributed by W. G.)

The first basketball game on the home floor during the new year will be played this Friday night. St. Cloud Tech. school is coming to battle with the first team while the second team will try to hold to their own with Pine Rivers first quint.

The line up will probably be as follows: Hess and Engstrom forwards, Moistad center, and Sargeant and Heikenen at guards. Jones and Stoner will sub. The second team will start with Anderson and Day at forwards, Zakariassen at the pivot, and Orth and Carlson guards. This is believed to be the combination that can be made out of the ample material at hand, and the game is bound to be a fast one.

Great expense is being incurred in bringing two teams from different towns and it is hoped that this fact will be appreciated by the sporting blood of Brainerd. Get a ticket and the spirit.

JUNIOR CLUB

Of Riverside Parent-Teachers Association Gave a Sleigh Ride Party Friday Evening

On Friday evening, Jan. 13, the Junior club of the Riverside Parent-Teachers Association gave a sleigh ride party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Smiley and John Bushway chaperoned the young folks. The success of the ride was due largely to Geo. Adair who furnished such an ample number of robes that the young folks numbering 37 did not realize it was a very cold night.

After the ride they were left at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Meyers in West Brainerd. The rest of the evening was spent in singing and games. After a bounteous lunch served by Mesdames Meyers, Bourgeois and Fourre the young folks departed all voting the hostesses, and Mr. Adair supreme entertainers.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TEA

To be Given at Chamber of Commerce Parlors on Friday Afternoon, January 20

The League of Women Voters will give a tea at the Chamber of Commerce parlors Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There is no charge connected with this tea. All of the women voters of the city are urged to come out and hear Mrs. Albee Ladd, state chairman of the organization.

Mrs. Ladd has been asked to speak on the "Accomplishments of the Disarmament Conference." This is Mrs. Ladd's first visit to our city and the local league would like very much to have a good representative gathering out to meet her.

Mrs. Ladd is a woman of delightful personality, witty, well informed, an excellent speaker and with the very best political traditions. Her father was thrice governor of Rhode Island. She was first vice president of the league in the 5th district and did such good work that she was asked to take up the work throughout the state.

Miss Ruth Mitchell of St. Cloud, who is chairman of the 6th district of which we are a part, will accompany Mrs. Ladd, and will no doubt, have something of interest to impart to us.

Active members will please try to bring some one with them who has not, as yet, been meeting with the league. Remember! Every woman in Brainerd, of voting age, is urged and invited to come out. Mrs. Ladd considers political education work the most important thing to be done at the present time.

25TH ANNIVERSARY OF LADIES AID

Commemorated by Members at Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, Corner Main and Broadway

SOCIAL EVENING IS SPENT

President of Aid, Mrs. F. C. Rathert, Gave Present to Mrs. F. H. Gruenhagen, One of Aid Founders

On Tuesday evening, January 17, the members of Zion Evangelical Lutheran church, corner Main and Broadway, congregated to commemorate and celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Ladies Aid of their church. Regardless of the cold weather a very satisfactory assembly of Lutherans occupied the pews of the church proper when at 7:30 o'clock the religious service was opened. In his address the pastor of the church very plainly set forth the purposes and ambitions which should speed the work of a Lutheran organization of this type and what blessings and benefits have resulted from this work in the past twenty-five years, and which will undoubtedly mark the progress of this organization in the future.

After the close of the service the assembly retired to the church parlors where the evening's festivities were continued in a social gathering of the Ladies Aid and its many friends. In the course of the evening the president of the Aid, Mrs. F. C. Rathert, handed a very suitable gift to Mrs. F. H. Gruenhagen, the sole remaining member of the original founders of the society.

Among other things Ed. Gruenhagen submitted a financial statement of the church, showing in brief to what extent the Aid had promoted the welfare of the congregation, while Fred Gruenhagen dwelt upon the pecuniary conditions of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, explaining especially a new and effective budget system which this body has adopted.

When those present seemed to have reached the stage of exhaustion caused by the many toasts and well-wishings, the ladies revived the waning spirits by serving a well prepared lunch in the light of twenty-five candles which shone forth from a beryl of carnations, the gift of a friend of the Aid in Duluth.

The gathering finally, but reluctantly, took leave of its hostesses wishing them even greater success and prosperity than they have enjoyed in the past quarter of a century.

THE WOODROW WILSON FOUNDATION

A Tribute to a Great American

To the men and women of Crow Wing county:

I have been asked to act as chairman for Crow Wing county for the above Foundation.

We are late in starting, so we will keep our drive open until the end of the month.

Woodrow Wilson has passed from the political stage.

Much that he set out to do is still undone.

Some believe that he failed utterly.

But the number grows, and will continue to grow, of those who see, through the confusion of conflicting opinion the light of an American for a great American ideal—for democracy and human freedom.

And so we are asking for a free will offering from those who believe in the principles that Woodrow Wilson has championed, and who wish to perpetuate the influence of America's great war leader. Woodrow Wilson, is a sick man, a casualty of the great war—let us give him flowers before he leaves us.

Another announcement will be made shortly. Any one wishing to make contributions, or ask any questions in the meantime, I shall be very glad to receive and answer same.
